   Decides: the ask's shape. Ask: Dimon.

WHO THEY ARE

- Role: Chairman and CEO of JPMorgan Chase since Jan 1, 2006 [1].
- Path: Citigroup president 1998, Bank One CEO 2000 [8]; Tufts, Harvard MBA [9].
- The organization: about $4.6 trillion in assets [10]; 2025 net income $57.0 billion, 20% return on tangible equity [11].
- What changed: Oct 13: third-quarter net income $15.3 billion [6]. June: co-presidents' $30 million awards vest after three years [12]. May: Reagan National Economic Forum speaker [13].

IN THEIR WORDS

- AI, 2026 letter, Apr 6: "The pace of adoption will likely be far faster than prior technological transformations, like electricity or the internet." [4]
- Jobs, Bloomberg TV, May 21: "I think it will reduce our jobs down the road" [5]
- Rates, 2026 letter: "stickier inflation and ultimately higher interest rates than markets currently expect" [14]

SIGNALS AND WHAT TO DO WITH THEM

OBSERVABLE	WHAT TO DO WITH IT
Surcharge "just seems to punish our success" [15]	His outside time defends the firm; show you protect it
Talyx offers AI meeting prep for executive teams [16]	Leaders enter each room knowing the person
Co-presidents' awards vest after three years [12]	The handover window; habits start now

MEETING APPROACH

WHAT THE RECORD SHOWS	YOUR MOVE
Appetite for detail: letter cites $1 trillion liquidity [17], $40 billion excess capital [18]	Headline, two proof points, a source on request.
Appetite for risk: stickier inflation [14]; predictable mistakes [7]	Pair the upside with the safeguard in the same sentence.
How they keep score: surcharge punishes the firm's strength [15]; excess capital [18]	One peer reference is useful; more is noise.

WHO DECIDES

- Decision maker: Not determined
- The gate: Not determined
- Relationship holder: Not determined

STRONGEST CASE AGAINST

- Against: he said AI "will reduce our jobs down the road" [5], so an AI pitch may land as headcount news.
- Against: his agenda is capital rules [15] and succession [3]; nothing ties him to meeting preparation.
- Reverses if: his team already runs sourced meeting prep.

MEETING ANGLE

This meeting

- Frame: his team prepared through the next three years [2]; not a pitch.
- Lands: figures with sources [17]. Repels: AI replacing people [5]. What to bring: one sourced page [16].
- The ask: a second 30-minute meeting with him or whoever prepares his meetings [16] · Fallback: 30 minutes with his AI adoption owner.
- Stop if: he says executive preparation is settled.

Meeting two

- Meeting two: a page on a person he picks [4].
- Meeting three: a trial with the co-presidents [3].

After the meeting

- Capture: who prepares his meetings today.

MEETING SCRIPT

Facts select the moves; read the room, never the record · Jamie Dimon, JPMorgan Chase · Prepared Oct 14, 2026

1. OPEN

- Hook: Your letter says AI will arrive "far faster" than electricity or the internet [4]. I'd like to show you one narrow place where that pays off the same day.
- Credibility: I'm from Talyx; we make AI meeting prep for executive teams [16].
- Insight: Both co-presidents' awards vest after three years [12], so the habits the next team builds start now.
- Rule: stop after the hook and let him answer first.

2. QUESTION ORDER

- Story: Your letter says AI adoption will be "far faster" than past shifts [4]; which executive decisions change first?
- Process: Third-quarter net income reached $15.3 billion [6]; where does the top team still lose hours to preparation?
- Gate: With Petno and Rohrbaugh as co-presidents [3], how should they be briefed for outside meetings?
- History: Your letter says "the worst mistakes we can make are predictable" [7]; which one is hardest to prevent?
- Commitment: What would make a second 30-minute meeting worth your time?

3. OBJECTIONS: NAME IT, THEN ANSWER

- "JPMorgan already builds its own AI." Likely so. This is sourced preparation for one meeting, not a platform [16].
- "I have no time." Thirty minutes, once, and I send one page first [16].
- "AI is cutting jobs." You said it will reduce jobs down the road [5]; this makes preparation better, not smaller.

Next step: send one sample page by Oct 16, 2026 [16].

4. CLOSE

- Restate: ask what would make it an easy yes, then say it back in his words.
- Real deadline: none found; the three-year handover is the window [2].
- The ask: a second 30-minute meeting with him or whoever prepares his outside meetings [16] · Fallback: 30 minutes with the executive who owns AI adoption.
- Follow-up: one sample page, the next day [16].

5. READ THE ROOM (WATCH, DO NOT ASSUME)

- Fast, wants the answer: headline, two proof points, a source on request [17].
- Asks for terms and data: bring the figures and the source for each [18].
- Talks about people: tie the page to the co-presidents' roles [3].
- Big picture, ideas: pair the upside with the safeguard in one sentence [14].

6. IF IT STALLS

- The move: ask how a handover in about three years changes how his team prepares [2].
- The move: return to his words: "the worst mistakes we can make are predictable" [7].

7. GUARDRAILS

- Rule: promise no results at JPMorgan Chase; make no performance or comparative claims.
- Never say: "Does that make sense?" · "Is this helpful?" · "No pressure" · "You'd know better than me" · "Just checking in"
